Items of Discussion

- Coaches clinic
 - Desiree wants to book time in Mansfield school gym
 - Scott brought up that the clinic should include basic skills, training using apps like Gamechanger and iScore, how to run a practice so a coach is not just hitting a ball to a field of kids standing around but kids are always moving and getting multiple reps
 - Scott mentioned an app that costs $31 that actually teaches defensive skills on where the players should move depending on where the ball is hit

- General discussion on Mansfield concession stand and having games all day Saturday so the league can maximize profits and easier to manage for volunteers.

- Tom Kachala brought pooling the kids again. Mike Y mentioned that we are not ready to vote on it and we have discussed it in the past. Scott wants us to put together some bullet points or points of discussion so that we do not need to hash things over again. The tournament teams contain kids from the five towns but the approx. Scott and Mike Y mentioned that 80%-85% of the parents just want their kids to play rec baseball within their towns and along their neighbors.
